Agri-Pro Enterprises of Iowa, Inc. is pleased to announce that the next generation will be joining the closely held corporation in 2015. Bob Vosloh and Dorothy Vosloh started Agri-Pro Enterprises in 1979 and their daughter Lari (Vosloh) Rabe joined the company in 1981. In November of 2011, Lari and her husband Joe purchased the company when Bob decided to retire.

The third generation is now poised to join the company in March of 2015 when their son Matt Rabe will join the company in sales and marketing.

Agri-Pro Enterprises is a unique marketing company that supplies animal health instruments, applicators and supplies to distributors throughout the United States, Canada and Latin America for manufacturers, allowing them to concentrate on production while Agri-Pro Enterprises does the marketing and fulfillment for them. With the addition of Matt to the staff, the industry can be assured that Agri-Pro Enterprises will continue to provide their unique products and services into the next generation.
